

BURTON NOWLAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Dies at Star Lake, Where He Recently Went for Health.

A GOOD MAN GONE

He Was Managing Editor of The Gazette for Several Years.

DEATH A SURPRISE

After two years of intense suffering and excruciating pain Burton F. Nowlan, managing editor of the Janesville Gazette, died this morning at Star Lake, where he had gone in search of ease from his sufferings. His death while sudden, has been expected for some time, owing to the enfeebled condition in which the ravages of disease had left him.

Burton Nowlan was in the thirty-third year of his life. He was born in Janesville, June 1, 1870, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Nowlan. As a young boy he attended the city schools until 1884 when an injury to his knee forced him to abandon his studies. He was early interested in printing and became a thorough master of the art. Starting with a little hand press of his own he rapidly rose to the position of managing editor of the Gazette. He was a fearless writer and one who, while his language was not flowery, went to the core of things and his articles were pithy and forceful.

It is a mission of a daily journal to record from day to day the deaths that are of daily occurrence, and it is rarely that the paper goes to press without a record of this kind. The death of Mr. Nowlan comes to the Gazette with peculiar significance, for his life and ambitions were so interwoven into it, that it is like tearing out the warp of a pattern that he devoted the best years of his life to create and develop. Coming to the paper as a boy seventeen years ago and commencing at the bottom, he worked his way up until his ability won for him the position of managing editor, which position he filled with marked success for the last two years of his active work.

As a writer he was forceful and fearless advocating the right as he understood it. Yet courageous and considerate. He was recognized as a thoroughly equipped, all-around newspaper man, competent to turn out a paper alone, if necessity demanded. Tireless in energy, and devoting his life faithfully to his work, because of his intense love for it, he fell in the harness, and his loss will be keenly appreciated.

As a man Mr. Nowlan possessed nobility of character, based on rugged honesty and manliness of purpose. He had a genial disposition and a large heart that were filled with sympathy and thoughtful consideration. His friendship meant more than casual acquaintance and he had a host of friends who shared his confidence, and enjoyed his friendship.

When a boy he had the misfortune to fracture the bones of his left knee, leaving him with a stiff joint. From the accident, which was the indirect cause of his death, he never fully recovered. With a body physically weak, he fought the battles of life cheerfully, and with active and intelligent mind and a brave strong heart, won for himself many victories in the unequal struggle.

He enjoyed field sports, and when worn out with work and nervousness as the result of physical weakness, would spend time with rod or gun at the Caracou club, of which organization he was the secretary.

For two years past he has been confined to his home, to his bed most of the time, suffering the most agonizing of pains. Last December it was found necessary to amputate his left leg in order to save his life and since then hopes had been entertained of his recovery. The past summer has been a trying one to the invalid and it was in hope that a change would benefit him that his physicians advised him to get into the woods he loved so well.

His wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Merrill, a daughter Louise, and a son, Hiram, are left to mourn as members of his immediate household. To them, as well as to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Nowlan, a brother and sisters, generous sympathy will be extended. To

HUNGARY WANTS HER SUBJECTS

Sends Flag and Books To Keep the Home Spirit Up—Ambrose Indignant Over the Affair.

New York, Aug. 29.—(Special).—Hungarians are greatly excited over the coming of an official deputation from their mother country, which is to present to Hungarians here the banner of their native land. On this flag are inscribed the lines, "Be ye dauntlessly loyal to your fatherland." Anthony M. Ambrose, president of the National Assembly of the United States, which numbers 13,000 members, is indignant over the affair. He telegraphed to the secretary of the treasury asking that the flag not be admitted free of duty. The same day he received a telegram from the Treasury Department saying that it would not be.

Against Citizenship

On Aug. 27 Ambrose addressed letters to the President, the Secretary of the State and the Secretary of the Treasury, in which he urged that the 5,000 text books of the Hungarian language, which accompanied it, be not allowed. Mr. Ambrose says that the Hungarian government subscribed the most of the money to defray the expenses connected with the bringing of the banner to this country and that the object of the gift is to urge Hungarians in this country not to become naturalized citizens.

REMARKABLE TALK

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) New York, August 29.—J. Pierpont Morgan in a rather remarkable circular issued this morning to the stockholders of the southern roads he is interested in, is a remarkable appeal to them for their aid and co-operation.

Danger Revealed Admission is made in the circular that recent events have revealed the danger to which the corporation properties exist if the opportunity for outside purchase and control in open market continues.

Would Control The circular also admits that Mr. Morgan would like to control all the roads in the southern states and make one grand consolidation of their interests.

"If you make such a promise as that you may induce Judge Parker to accept," said a Republican bystander. "Well," the governor said, "of course I could reappoint him for only one year, and then he would have to go before the people."

COLONIES ARE TO PAY EXPENSES OF BOER WAR

Chamberlain Credited with a Desire to Raise $250,000,000 Annually in Transvaal.

London, Aug. 29.—A dispatch from Pretoria, in which the correspondent voices the popular protest against the attempt to increase the tax on mines with a view of making the new colonies contribute to the cost of the war, says well founded reports credit Joseph Chamberlain, British colonial secretary, with the idea of getting from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 from the colonies for this purpose.

"It is well to face the facts," says the correspondent, "and the facts are that for many years to come there will be no prospect of the Transvaal having any surplus above what is necessary for the proper development of the country. It is obvious that any attempt to exact even $250,000,000 would permanently hamper the resources for what at best will for years remain a poor country, dependent upon a single industry."

ROBBERS BEAT UP EVANSVILLE MEN

Robbers Secure But Thirty Cents in Money and a Watch.

(Special To The Gazette.) Evansville, Wis., Aug. 29.—John and Fred Nelms, two teamsters of this city were held up and robbed and beaten by highwaymen a few miles this side of Stoughton while coming back from that city last night.

Hire A Rig The two men had gone to Stoughton to hire a wagonette for the coming fair. They left Stoughton about ten o'clock and started back for Evansville with the wagonette tied behind.

The thieves evidently climbed into the wagonette and thence into the back of the buggy for they suddenly fell on the two Nelms and clubbed them from behind.

Badly Hurt Fred Nelms was badly cut about the head and neck and his brother was bruised about the face. They tried to fight the men off but were unable to do so and finally one of them threw the pocketbook into the tall weeds and submitted to a search.

Secure Little The robbers secured but a watch and thirty cents in money from the two men and missed the twenty dollars that was in the pocket book they had thrown away. Both men were much injured and had their wounds dressed in Evansville.

Search Made This afternoon a thorough search is being made in the surrounding country for the assailants and the lost pocket book. It is thought that the robbers followed the men from Stoughton, having seen the money in their possession.

HEALTH PARK IS NOW ASSURED

LAND NEAR TOMAHAWK HAS BEEN SECURED.

THE PLANS ARE PROGRESSING

It is Only Only a Matter of Time Before All Is in Operation.

In a recent report on vital statistics of the United States census, we find an interesting statement made under the heading of "General Death Rates," which goes to show a lower range of mortality. This it would seem has been brought about in a number of cities of this country through improved municipal methods. When in one decade the death rate of a community or city is reduced any where from three to seven or eight in a thousand, the gain in industrial well-being and domestic happiness which such a change implies is quite incalculable. If a city has 300,000 people, and in one year the loss of life is, say, five less per thousand than it was a few years previous, it means that there are 1500 people living at the end of the latter twelve months who would have died if the conditions of the former year had obtained; or, in other words, that in more than a thousand homes death has been prevented from entering in and destroying family happiness by removing one or another of the members of the family circle. Considered also on the basis of industrial conditions, if the members of a community can live relatively healthy lives, as a low death rate may imply, the productive power is exceedingly great, for as a rule does a high death rate cause a sad, because unless, mortality, but also leads to the inference of a great amount of sickness which has not ended untily, but has been of sufficient moment to serve as a deterrent to customary productive activity.

According to this report what ever the death rates have been lessened credit is given largely to the bettering of sanitary conditions, such as improved paving of streets, sewerage, purer water supply, disinfecting buildings, etc.

In Wisconsin we have a fairly healthy people, yet with all the precautions used we have a too high death rate, more especially of infants and those in middle walks of life, or those whose ages are between fifteen and forty years. In order to lessen the infantile mortality we need greater care in their feeding and in seeing to it that they are supplied pure air to breathe. At this season of the year many helpless little ones succumb to the ravages of Cholera Infantum whose lives might be saved by a wiser method of feeding and almost constant out of door life, kept perfectly quiet in their baby carts and carriages. We know from actual experience that the death rate from Tuberculosis, Consumption can be greatly reduced by wise use of climatic changes and environments. Open air combined with wise industrial measures and proper feeding and rest will save each year to this Commonwealth more than six hundred lives from the present mortality caused by the great "White Plague." Seventy-five per cent. of the victims of this one disease are those whose lives have the largest value to the upbuilding and perpetuating the prosperity of the state.

Health Park
In order to bring about the desired good result along this line a few intelligent and philanthropically inclined persons have associated themselves together and secured a charter from the state. Under that charter there has been secured a suitable tract of land in Northern Wisconsin, at Tomahawk. This association seems to be destined to be a grand good work. Through the activities of the officers of this organization great good no doubt will be accomplished. The success of the undertaking will largely depend upon the interest all the people take in helping those less fortunate than themselves, to avail themselves of the opportunity the association so greatly desire all such helpless victims may have set before them. Two well-to-do lumber firms up the Wisconsin River are donating a half section of land for the first of a series of "Health Parks" the association hope to establish. The design of the officers of the association is to furnish comfortable homes and surroundings together with light out of door employment for a few hours each day in order that every invalid wishing to avail themselves of this blessed opportunity may feel that their dependence is along the line of the American independence, and not to have the feeling of a "beggar" for the whole design of the good work is to give the helpless victims of invalidism of whatever kind the chance to be self-supporting while recuperating their lost condition of health. The management of the association are very optimistic and feel sanguine that enough donations will soon be forth coming to enable them to establish one or more comfortable cottages for the coming winter, where a dozen of such helpless little ones can find accommodations in a home-like environment, and where they may be in from six weeks to six months recover fully their health. This movement has its conception in Janesville. Dr. W. P. Roberts the originator of the Invalid Aid Society of Boston, Mass., interviewed our well known citizen Hon. A. P. Lovejoy, regarding getting suitable lands in the northern part of the state, and received encouragement along that line. Thus encouraged the doctor kept on interesting enough others to secure the charter, then with the motto of the state in mind he pressed "Forward" until he was glad to have two delegations visit Tomahawk, among whom were several well known physicians all of whom are well pleased with the workings of the association thus far, and all of whom will continue to give encouragement to the good work. Already several kindly disposed well-to-do persons have become interested and will be ready to contribute liberally to help on the work. Dr. W. P. Roberts having taken such a deep interest in the work has been elected to act as the "Field Secretary" his duty will be to solicit funds and give reliable information to those seeking it.

WISCONSIN

The following poem, Wisconsin, was sung at yesterday's unveiling by Col. E. O. Kimberley. It is such a sweet and touching melody that it is printed below so that all may read it whether they heard it yesterday or not.

"WISCONSIN."

Composed and sung by Col. E. O. Kimberley.

Each loyal state should laud its great, Its heroes brave and true, Wisconsin boasts as brave a host As ever were the blue. All hail to Lincoln, Logan, Grant, The pride of Illinois, Our song of praise we'll ever raise To the loyal Badger Boy.

When our nation was in danger, And for soldier help appealed, Wisconsin's men with quick response Were foremost in the field; They smote on Shiloh's bloody plain, Old Lookout's Heights they won, At Vicksburg and at Gettysburg Their noblest deeds were done.

In times of war no state could boast Of men more brave and grand; In name and fame a mighty host, Their deeds will ever stand; And few who fought to save the flag, From sea to sea more grand Than Ranger, Hamilton, Rusk and Bragg, The pride of all our land.

There's a Fairchild, too, in youth and age, Our bright and shining star, We loved him, hero, statesman, sage, Naught can his glory mar, Our eagle screamed amid the fray, Unscathed by shot and shell—"Old Abe" Wisconsin's noble bird, The nation knows him well.

Now comrades dear, with song and cheer We come to greet you all, In peaceful days we chant your praise, And fighting scenes recall; And when we hear the last tattoo, And the bugle's final blast, Wisconsin's Sons who wore the blue Will be brave unto the last.

ATTORNEY'S PIPE WAS LOADED

A Little 22-Cartridge Went off Unexpectedly, with Bad Results

Attorney Rood of Beloit is still "buying" to square himself for a little accident which happened the fore part of the week. John says that he was not in the least to blame, and that it was a perfectly natural accident. His friends respond that after he has paid the penalty for such accidents a few times he will earn to be more cautious in the future.

Mr. Rood is a great smoker. A pipe is his favorite means of consuming tobacco, and he is rarely seen without one in active eruption. He is also more or less of a marksman and whereas one coat pocket is always filled with a supply of that fragrant narcotic, the other usually contains a few cartridges.

Pipe Went Off.
Not many days ago Mr. Rood was smoking his pipe in his office, peacefully conversing with one of his friends. Suddenly there came a report as of a detachment of artillery. When the smoke had cleared away Mr. Rood was wiping tobacco ashes out of his whiskers; the pipe was in the corner, and on his typewriter lay a 22 bullet. Inadvertently the cartridge had gotten into the wrong pocket and had slipped into the bowl along with the tobacco. As the pipe became heated the cartridge exploded with disastrous effects.

REMARKABLE SWIM BY YOUNG MILLS

Swims Across Lake Delavan With Great Ease and Swiftness.

Of the events at this year's Junior Y. M. C. A. camp nothing has been more freely talked of or will be remembered longer than the swim made by Wallace Mills. One of the tests of endurance at Lake Delavan is the swim across the lake, a distance of a mile and a half. It has been made several times by the older boys and men. The thirteen year old son of Dr. James Mills broke all previous records by making the same distance that had been made by the older persons.

An Accomplished Swimmer

Two years ago at the Y. M. C. A. camp young Mills took his first lesson in swimming. The next year he won the medal for the long distance dive under water. This year he wished to eclipse his previous efforts, and so he tried the mile and a half swim across the lake. The athletic director in one boat and two senior in another accompanied him. Two older boys started out with him from the camp, but after going two thirds of the distance, they were obliged to leave the water from exhaustion, and were taken up by one of the boats.

Mills swam along easily, and, according to the athletic director, stopped and played with the bubbles on the water when twenty-five yards from the other shore. When he was taken from the water he was only slightly exhausted from the effects of the long swim. No one had expected that he would actually make the distance and so the time was not taken. Physical Director Mack estimates the time that young Mills was in the water as about an hour.

Miss Ethel Wood returned to her home in Chicago yesterday after a pleasant visit with relatives in this city.

DEATH CALLS MRS. VOLNEY ATWOOD

AGED RESIDENT OF JANESVILLE HAS PASSED AWAY.

A TRUE CHRISTIAN SPIRIT

She Came to Wisconsin in an Early Day Amid Troublous Times.

With the death of Mrs. Catherine A. Atwood, the wife of Mr. Volney Atwood, Janesville loses one of its oldest inhabitants and her family a devoted mother and grandmother. During all her eighty-three years, all but seventeen of which she has spent in Janesville Mrs. Atwood has been a loving Christian character, a devoted wife and a beautiful mother. Her death last evening in the autumn of her life, surrounded by her family, was a quiet and beautiful ending for so good and pure a life.

Mrs. Atwood, then Miss Catherine Holmes, came to Janesville with her parents in 1826. The little party of pioneers arrived here on the night of March 9 when the whole country was stirred by the ravages of the painted savages. Judge Holmes and his family came from Indiana to Janesville travelling by wagon from Chicago following an Indian trail often times indistinct. On their arrival in what is now Janesville, but one house was standing, known as the St. Johns. Here they stayed the first night in the country and shared their room with nineteen other travelers.

Judge Holmes erected his home on what was then called Rockport but now a part of Janesville. He owned a section of land on what is now Milwaukee street, extending north to the Woodruff farm. Here he built the first frame house erected in Janesville, his men cutting the timber from the surrounding forests with whip saws. Until its completion Mrs. Atwood lived with her parents in a log cabin on a bluff near the river bank near where Mr. Millmore's home now stands.

Mrs. Atwood was seventeen when she came to Janesville. As a young girl she was the belle of the whole community. She was an ardent student and books were her delight. Chicago was the market in those early days and her only request was for books which she eagerly read and studied. In 1837 Mr. Atwood came to Janesville and ten years later he and Miss Holmes were married, the wedding being quite the society event of the growing little colony.

Mrs. Atwood was born in Newark, Marion county, Ohio, on August 9, 1819. She was brought up in the strictest of Christian families and her whole life has been devoted to her family and her church. She was an Episcopalian and has been a communicant of that church for many years.

Refined and cultured she came with her parents to the wild Indian country when such a trip meant isolation from all friends and relatives, who did not accompany her. She was a brave, true woman in the early days of the country and a devoted, loving mother to the little family that came to gladden her home later.

To mourn her death she leaves her aged husband and three children, all living in Janesville. Mr. Charles Atwood, Mrs. E. V. Whitton and Miss Annie E. Atwood and eleven grandchildren. The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon from her late residence at two thirty, Rev. Richey officiating.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The new play "Along the Mohawk" recently produced in Chicago and to be presented here on Friday the 29th, has already gained unusual favor. Nelson Lewis, as a rural editor plays in a short, dry fashion and the awkwardness of gesture and movement supposed to be peculiarly identified with such characters, and wins the most hearty approval of his audience. Miss Julia Kingsley, as the young reporter, has great beauty to win her favor, and she plays with breeziness and wholeheartedness that agreeably free her portrayal with any superabundant sentimentality to which authors yearn to supply their heroines. The carefully selected supporting company is of unusual strength. Mr. Charles McDonald, the plotting candidate for the assembly, James J. Boyd, the artist "devil" of the Beacon, Charles Mitchell, a tramp printer, E. H. Holland, a Beacon pressman, Mrs. Anna Inman, landlady of the hotel, Miss Edna Ward, belle of the village and Miss Orris Over, the city niece of the editor, from a combination of artists that is in every manner satisfying. The play, production, and company, will undoubtedly be known as one of the remarkable dramatic successes of the present season.

"THE HOTTEST COON IN DIXIE."

The most diverting novelty of the coming theatrical week is that promised by the management. "The Hottest Coon in Dixie" has lived up to its name and beyond it. The entire performance scintillates with a sparkle of originality that has made it one of the most popular of all traveling organizations. It is primarily the only recognized high-class colored company in the United States. It is really a colored comic opera production. The music is not only original and of a special written character, but it is of the catchiest possible order. The principals are talented to the highest degree, and of acknowledged reputation. Vocally their is no better chorus in the country, while in physical attractiveness it is far superior to these of many of the more pretentious organizations. "The Hottest Coon in Dixie" abounds and fairly revels in laughter and fast, furious fun.

Oliver Koester

Oliver Koester, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Koester, passed away this morning at 3:30 o'clock of an attack of brain fever. The little fellow was but two years and nine months of age and had been sick but two days. The boy was the joy of the family circle and his death is a sad blow to his parents, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

VANDALS DISTURB BELOIT WORKMEN

TOOL BOXES BROKEN OPEN

Saws and Hammers Are Left Scattered Over the Ground in Confusion.

When some carpenters in the employ of Cunningham Brothers, the Beloit contractors, went to their work Wednesday morning they found that others had been on the scene before them. Some unknown persons, had broken open their tool chests and carried away their tools.

The action has been generally censured by both sympathizers of organized labor and their opponents. "Get Town Out." Several carpenters' chests have been badly damaged. The locks had been roughly cut out, and the tools had been scattered in the weeds and grass surrounding the building where the work was going on. The key to the spirit in which the malicious destruction had been carried on was given in a placard. On a small board was roughly written the words: "Scabs get town out." Evidently an attempt had been made to give the impression that the work had been down by Germans. The handwriting was good.

Some Tools Missing. Most of the tools were found after a careful search over the premises, but about twenty-five dollars' worth had disappeared. All of the tools taken belonged to the carpenters, Henry Love, P. Scott and G. Collier.

Action Condemned. Union and nonunion men are a unit in expressing their disapproval of the work. The hope has been generally expressed that the police may be able to discover the guilty parties, and that due punishment will be meted out to them. It is not certain whether some rowdy or not is culpable.

FIFIELD BROS. TO APPEAL THE CASE

Will Take Claims for Money to the Circuit Court for Settlement.

The Fifield Bros. Lumber company filed a notice with City Clerk A. E. Badger yesterday that they intended to appeal to the circuit court from their decision of the council disallowing them their claim of $2,757.37 of the monies due contractor John Martin for work done on Dodge, Pleasant and Court streets. Fifield Bros. presented their claim to the council some time ago, but it was decided to pay the money due Martin to the First National Bank, which had an assignment of the account from Martin. The bank, prior to receiving the money executed a bond to hold the city free from damage in the matter.

ONE MAN KILLED BY THE STRIKERS

TROOPS HURRIED TO SCENE

Miscreant Fires Shot Through a Window at President of Mining Company, but Bullet Misses Its Mark and Man Makes His Escape.

Bluefields, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Crane creek valley has been the scene of rioting and disorder. John Ruble, employed by the Sagamore Coal and Coke company, was killed by striking miners.

Ruble, in company with Barney Shumate, started for a point on the works to stand guard. En route they were fired on and Ruble fell. Shumate opened fire on the miners, who fled.

Unfounded Rumor.

Earlier in the day it was reported that two strikers and two guards had been killed in a general fight. Careful investigation fails to corroborate the statement.

W. H. McQuill, president of the Turkey Gap Coal company, was fired at through a window, but was not hurt.

Militia on Guard.

Thurmond, W. Va., Aug. 29.—The entire Second regiment state troops arrived here and was distributed about various coal properties where trouble occurred. Three companies will be stationed at Rush Run, two miles west, where probably 500 shots were fired across the New river between strikers and guards.

PROTECTED BY TROOPS.

Nonunion Workmen Escorted to Their Homes in Pennsylvania.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 29.—After a day of intense excitement the situation in the Panther Creek valley has quieted down. Company K of the Twelfth regiment, under command of Capt. Helms, escorted the nonunion men to their homes in Lansford, Summit Hill and Coaldale. While large crowds gathered on the streets, there was no hostile demonstration. The officers of the Twelfth regiment stated that the Second battalion of that command, now stationed at Shenandoah, will be ordered here unless the situation is greatly improved. The battalion will be stationed at Summit Hill.

Hurl Stones at Soldiers.

Of the strikers arrested by the soldiers four were released and the fifth held on the charge of assault and battery and inciting a riot. The five men were arrested at No. 4 colliery. The soldiers were on a trolley car, which was surrounded by a crowd of strikers who hurled rocks at the troops. While one of them, an Italian, was in the act of hurling a stone several soldiers jumped off and captured him. He offered resistance and the soldiers were compelled to fix their bayonets. The striker was slightly wounded. The troopers finally reached Lansford.

Capture Rioters.

A mob had gathered there and for a time it looked like riot. As the first car was passing through the mob, Capt. Gearhart was struck on the right shoulder by a stone. Several soldiers jumped from the car in pursuit of the stone thrower. After an exciting scuffle they captured him. They proceeded again, but had not gone far when another crowd was encountered. Half a dozen soldiers jumped off and captured three men, who, it is alleged, were urging the crowd to attack the troops.

SECRETARY SHAW SOLVES PROBLEM

INCREASE OF CIRCULATION

National Banks Are Requested to Issue Notes to the Full Amount of Their Capital Stock, Thus Furnishing Sufficient Cash.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw took steps to insure the movement of the enormous crops soon to be harvested without causing any stringency in the money market.

The matter has been under consideration by the secretary for some time, and he has decided that the best way out of the difficulty is to induce the national banks to increase their circulation. Such a suggestion was made to the banks some time ago and it is understood they have responded in a satisfactory manner.

Can Issue Notes.

The national banks can increase their circulation by $332,000,000 as they are capitalized at $700,000,000, and have issued notes amounting to but $368,000,000. The banks can issue notes to the full value of their capital if they deposit United States bonds in the treasury to cover the notes.

Acting Secretary Allen, by authority of Secretary Shaw, who is in New York, made the following statement:

Meets Favorable Response.

"The secretary recently invited some of the larger national banks in the principal cities to order additional amounts of circulating notes to be printed. National banks are entitled to issue circulation to the full amount of their capital. The secretary has hoped to introduce an element of elasticity into the present system. His suggestions to the various banks in the larger cities that they make preparation for additional circulation have met with favorable response.

To Be Used in Emergency.

"It is not his intention that they should issue this additional circulation all at once but only in case of actual necessity and emergency. He does not propose to inflate the currency in any sense, but to be prepared to meet the actual currency demand should one arise. With this in view, those banks which have made arrangements to deposit United States bonds as security for such additional circulation have sent in their orders, and the secretary has had all branches of the treasury service busily engaged in expediting the preparation of the notes pending a possible emergency."

To Prevent Stringency.

Of course, it will not be necessary to issue so much currency, and the secretary does not wish any more printed than is absolutely necessary. He simply wants the currency made elastic enough to meet the demands.

To prevent a money stringency during the crop movement, Secretary Shaw stands ready to co-operate with the banks and to do everything in his power. Shortly there will be heavy demands on the banks for currency, and at this season there is always fear of money being scarce.

Has Solved Problem.

This important question has occupied the attention of the secretary of the treasury for some time, and the problem has practically been solved for this season.

If the banks do not increase their circulation enough to supply the demand the secretary can deposit some of the government receipts in the national banks to tide over the busy season.

EIGHT POUNDS!

Eight pounds of love and laughter, of smiles and sunshine or—? Many a mother can fill up the blank out of her experience of puny, waiting children, whose coming brought no gladness to the home. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a pre-natal preparation know that it makes all the difference between happy, healthy motherhood and a motherhood of mourning and misery. And they know also that happy, healthy mothers have happy, healthy children. "Favorite Prescription" strengthens the whole body for the strain of motherhood. It practically does away with the pains of childbirth, gives the mother abundant vitality and enables her to nurse and nourish a healthy child.

The "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, chloral or any other narcotic.

"I am mother of six children," writes Mrs. C. A. Briggs, of Stillwood, Douglas Co., Oregon. "And always took three or four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' before confinement and never suffered any to speak of. I had no after pains; my babies were large—they all weighed more than eight pounds, and I am not a large woman; weigh about 115 pounds. I have had some stomach trouble, but a few doses of 'Golden Medical Discovery' would set me all right. I am hardly ever without your medicines. They are all the medicine one needs, if taken in time, to keep one in perfect health."

"I feel that I owe my little boy's life to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as he had convulsions, and everything he ate would bring them on. I commenced giving him the 'Golden Medical Discovery' in ten drops three times a day. Now he is just as healthy a child as can be found and he grows like a weed."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative for women.

BURTON F. NOWLAN

This page that bore the impress of Mr. Nowlan's life and work, has gone into history, but his work still lives and its influence will continue to be felt. He was a progressive writer, keenly alive to the welfare of the city where he was born, and that had always been his home. He believed in, and advocated fearlessly, a clean municipal administration. In taking a stand for what he believed was right, he knew neither friend or foe. He possessed the courage of his convictions on all questions that he discussed and was always ready to intelligently defend his position. His friends admired him and his enemies always respected him.

His ideas were progressive, and he was ever ready with pen and purse to encourage every enterprise that would contribute to the welfare of the city. He had an ambition to see the city fully equipped with modern and sanitary improvements, and devoted much thought to the discussion of these important questions. His faith in Janesville was unbounded and his work was the product of his convictions. He advocated a generous but conservative policy, and had he lived to see his ambitions realized, the city would have been one of the best equipped inland cities in the state.

He was a staunch republican, but not an offensive partisan. He believed in party harmony, and expressed his belief clearly and opportunely. To men who did not agree with him on political questions, he was ever courteous and considerate and many of his warm personal friends were men of this class.

He possessed as strong personality, that stood out prominently in all that he did. To know him was to respect him because of his honesty of thought and intensity of purpose.

His death was a personal loss to the paper that he fostered as a father would a child. His life was devoted to his work. He loved it and put his life into it. Next to his home, the office, where he worked so long and earnestly, will miss him. He was a faithful steward and his work was well done.

CRIME NO PREMIUM.

It is pleasing to know that crime is not to be rewarded and that criminals are not to be paid for being good. The statement is authoritatively that the Bankers' Protective association has no intention of granting a pension to the notorious forger, Chas. Becker, in order that he may be induced to abandon the practice of swindling.

There appears to have been no real foundation for the report that the association intended to take this means of inducing Becker to lead an honest life, or, rather, to refrain from the practice of forgery, after his discharge from the California state prison at San Quentin. The secretary of the association, James R. Branch, is quoted that the association will spare no expense to incarcerate an habitual criminal who has swindled any of its members, and will never pay salaries to criminals to keep them innocuous after their prison terms expire.

This is the proper attitude and the only one that promises society in general any security against criminals of Becker's characteristic. He is said to be 62 years old now, and he has preyed upon the public for the greater part of his life. He is at present serving a sentence for uttering bogus checks at many places on the Pacific coast, but his depredations had previously extended over all the large cities of the country, and his victims, who may be numbered by the hundred include not only bankers and capitalists, but persons in humble stations of life. An expert engraver, an expert forger, a person of exceptional intelligence and address, he proved to be one of the most dangerous criminals of his class in the country.

It is, of course, highly probable that Becker will return to crime at the end of his sentence, but the danger involved here is trivial in comparison with that which would inevitably follow any compromise that society might make with him. Matters will have reached a very serious point in this country when it becomes necessary to pension criminals so that they will cease to commit crime.

FROM SWORD TO PLOW.

South Africans who fought so bravely against the British have turned their minds from the sword to the plow. They have literally followed the bible sayings and turned their weapons into plow shares and their war steeds into plow horses. Instead of death, fire and sword the South African is today looking after the welfare of his crops, to the rebuilding of the home and the increasing of his flock. An order has been received by a firm at York, Pa., for eighteen thousand eight-horse power plows to be used for breaking up the virgin soil in South Africa, which, the firm announces, is probably the largest single order for plows that has ever been given.

It is a striking and also encouraging indication of the new state of affairs where war so lately was occupying the attention of the people. Let us hope that the plows will arrive safely, and that they may fulfill expectations and that the crops may be abundant. Doubtless a good many serviceable plow shares could have been made from the swords that were used in the South African war, but let them be used as relics. They may serve as reminders of the fact that a rusty sword in the scabbard is worth many gleaming ones flourishing in the air. Good luck to South Africa and the 18,000 plows that are on the way.

The governor of Pennsylvania is a most polite man. He is also diplomatic. He is reported to have said that when the disturbances that are now prevalent in his state are officially brought to his notice he will take official action on the matter. Can't he read the daily papers or has he his winter's supply of coal laid in?

As to the result of the mimic war on the Atlantic coast the public is requested to hold its opinions back until both captains have written just how it happened and who made a "loop." Then the general public can talk and take sides if they want to.

While Gates and Osgood fought over who should milk that Colorado Fuel and Iron cow, Messrs. Harriman and Hawley, two western gentlemen, bought the animal outright and settled any future disputes.

It is understood that beef will be cheaper after this year's crop of corn. Of course it may take some time to consume this crop, two or three years, but then beef will be cheaper.

King Edward went out and killed a stag up in Scotland. Let us see was it not Edward that the doctors all said would be an invalid the rest of his life.

If Mr. Bryan wants to do something for his country as he says he does, let him go down among those coal miners and use his silver tongue in trying to stop the trouble there.

As soon as General Miles gets out of the way, General Alger is going to try to stir things up by trying to be chosen United States senator from Michigan.

PRESS COMMENT.

Ashland News: Colonel Villan is looking for something. What?

Green Bay Gazette: Solomonesque is now a word coined by The Oshkosh Northwestern to fit a particular case.

Marquette Eagle: Good things are always in demand. This may account for the numerous arrivals of baby girls in the city recently.

Marquette Eagle: The jewelers had better secure good specimens of anthracite coal for ring and stud settings, before the price gets too high.

Marquette Eagle: California is growing because she produces daisies that are a foot in diameter. "Daisies" grow up to 5 feet 8 inches in this state, and all widths.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Is the Janesville Gazette's serious editorial on the Delavan sea serpent a case of where ignorance is bliss or where Bliss is ignorant—a joke?

Eau Claire Telegram: A good test of loyalty to the republican party is support to the whole party ticket, and this is especially true of those who participated in ante-convention contests.

Neenah Times: A Trempealeau farmer ate fifty roast ears of corn. He satisfied his appetite, but unfortunately him, the verdict would be the same, he died "well corned."

La Crosse Chronicle: The proposition that every man should have an opportunity to vote for the man whom he might wish to see on his party ticket finds favor with the great majority of the people.

Marion Advertiser: A Stevens Point scientist made the assertion that dyspepsia causes men to lie. And further says that a mighty lot of the citizens of New London and Waukegan were born dyspeptics.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The people of the Eighth congressional district are of the opinion that it would have been better for the interests of the district if Winnebago county had been put in a district of its own—as then some of the counties which are now in that district could have placed a candidate in nomination who did not reside in Oshkosh. As an office-getting city Oshkosh is a wonder.

BAD BOY VERY SEVERELY FINED

WILLIE BERGH PLEADS GUILTY TO STEALING RIG.

FINE AMOUNTS TO $249.10

His Father Pays the Bill and the Boy Will Return to His Home in Minnesota.

Willie C. Bergh, of North Branch, Minnesota, the fifteen year old boy who stole Nicholas Schenck's team and surrey from South River street on the afternoon of August 16, and was caught at Lodi, Wis. the next Tuesday morning, after successfully eluding the officers for three days, was brought before Judge Fifield this morning.

Pity Expressed
Everyone connected with the case was inclined to pity the boy and do all that they could to lessen his punishment. It was evident to the court and the district attorney that the boy did not realize what he had done, even after he was arrested. He seemed to feel his disgrace keenly and they were satisfied that this would be a warning to him not to do wrong in the future.

Only Of Buggy
After a consultation with the complaining witness, Mr. Schenck, District Attorney Jackson filed an information against Bergh charging him with the larceny of a buggy and harness of the value of $35. The horses being left out so that a fine could be imposed.

Pleaded Guilty
Bergh pleaded guilty to this information. After a short talk on the way he should conduct himself in the future in regard to other folks' property, Judge Fifield, imposed a fine of $50 and costs of the court, $3.06. He also included the costs of the complaining witness, Schenck, which were $154, and the sheriff's costs, $41.50. The whole thing amounted to $249.10 and was paid by Albert Bergh, the boy's father who had come down from North Branch, Minn., to aid him.

To Go Home
The boy left the court room with his father and Mrs. Pope and said that he intended to go home to North Branch with his father and obey the commands of his parents in the future. He seemed to be really sorry for what he had done and was grateful to the court and the district attorney for being so lenient with him.

PROGRESS IN WORK ON CITY HALL

Interior Decorations Are Pleasing to the Eye and Well Done.

During the past two weeks a transformation has been wrought in the appearance of the city hall by the tinting and frescoing which has been done. The foreman of the work believes that his wall decorators will complete their work by the last of next week.

Free Hand Decorations.
While the contract called only for stencil work, in the desire to do an especially attractive piece of frescoing the foreman, M. Axelsson, has substituted in several rooms, a goodly quantity of free hand work. The assembly hall and the municipal court room, among others, have been decorated with graceful fern and flower designs.

An Experienced Painter
Mr. Axelsson is a man of many years experience in wall decorating and under his direction a first class piece of work is being done. For thirty-three years he has worked in this country, and for twelve years before that he pursued his trade in the leading kingdoms of Europe. He is a Swede by birth, but says that he favors men of all nationalities equally, provided only that they are good workmen. In the course of his wanderings he has acquired a speaking knowledge of six or seven languages.

Chicago Contractor.
The contract for the work is held by W. G. Andrews of Chicago, and Mr. Axelsson is here as his representative. Only four men are at work, and no great effort is being made to push them, but the job will soon be completed. Several rooms of the building are now practically ready for occupancy.

INSPECT INTER-URBAN ROAD

Capitalists Interested Go Over the Line on Inspection Tour.

W. S. Hayden, George A. Slattery, George A. Coulton, W. E. Davis, A. O. Patch and J. R. Nutt of Cleveland; Garvin L. Payne of Indianapolis; H. H. Clough, J. C. Hill, George A. Kille and R. W. Hill of Elyria, Ohio, and G. W. Knox of Chicago, all of whom are interested in the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Interurban line were in the city Saturday. These gentlemen have been at Beloit inspecting the line and its equipment and took a trip to Rockford. Yesterday they took carriages at Beloit and made a thorough inspection of the work between Beloit and this city.

Pleased With Line
They were much pleased with the line between Beloit and Rockford and the power house and other improvements that have been made in Beloit. They are anxious, however, to get the line between Janesville and Beloit completed and put in operation.

Grading Pushed
The grading and track laying between this city and Beloit is being pushed along as rapidly as possible and it will be from four to six weeks before the line can be put in service.

WOULD BUILD A PERMANENT CAMP

PLANS FOR COTTAGES BY THE Y. M. C. A.

ASSOCIATION OWNS PROPERTY

Want to Erect Buildings to Accommodate Twenty—Open Three Months.

Plans are being formulated for the organization and establishment of a permanent Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake Delavan, under the control of the local institution. For several years the camp has been held on the same grounds, and the success of the outing each year has been so great as to lead to hopes for a still greater enterprise. Very little that is tangible has been accomplished, but those who know of what they speak tell with great confidence of the future of the camp.

Own A Sail Boat
During this year's Junior department outing several articles for kitchen use were purchased with a view toward the equipment of a cottage. A seventy-five dollar row-boat, owned by one of the officers of the association, is at the disposal of the camp. This year a sail boat, large enough to accommodate twenty persons was purchased and will be kept at the lake for association use.

Will Build Cottage
As far as the immediate plans have gone, the desire is to raise sufficient funds to erect a cottage which will be commodious enough to accommodate the party of twenty. The Y. M. C. A. hand owns one lot on the Assembly grounds and Secretary J. C. Kline is the owner of two. This leaves three lots open for the use of the association, and the next step will be to raise funds with which to erect a suitable building.

Open All Summer
This building is to be kept open from June 1st to September first each year for the use of the Y. M. C. A. and its members. Under this system it will be possible to invite all of the members to take part in the annual outing, at some time during the summer, instead of restricting the attendance to the younger members of the association as has been done heretofore.

Funds Pledged
Up to the present time several persons have made pledges of financial and other assistance in case a permanent camp should be established. The exact amount already promised has not been given for publication. It is understood, however, that the prospect for raising the required amount is very favorable. The hearty support of everyone who is in sympathy with the association work is sought by the gentlemen who have the project in charge.

MONEY COMES IN VERY SLOWLY.

The Fund of $4,000 for New Factory Does Not Accumulate Fast Thus Far.

The members of the committee, appointed at the meeting of the Business Men's Association Wednesday night, to solicit subscriptions toward the $4,000 bonus asked by the Hough Porch Shade company of Worcester, Mass., for moving their plant to this city were out yesterday and today.

Fair Success
They have met with fair success, and many of the business men of the town have subscribed liberally to the project. They have investigated the standing of the plant pretty thoroughly and are satisfied that it is all right and in fact is one of the best business propositions that has been made to Janesville in a long time.

An Opportunity.
This is an opportunity to get a good factory, that Janesville should not let slip. The subscription list is growing steadily and the committee are hopeful that they may be able to give Mr. Farnsworth a favorable answer today or tomorrow. He is anxious to return to Worcester and would like to know definitely, whether or not the money can be raised before he starts back.

Might Lose It.
Janesville is not the only city anxious to get this establishment. Mr. Farnsworth has received offers from other cities who are ready and willing to give more money to secure his plant. He likes Janesville and Mr. Hough was pleased with Janesville and he is not considering any other propositions until he is through with this city.

Marriage License: A marriage license was issued yesterday to B. C. Avery and Emma Voss both of Beloit.

A Sidewalk Grade: The city engineer has been engaged today in establishing a sidewalk grade for the west side of North Main street as ordered by the council some time ago.

Fast Time Made: J. L. Fisher starts for Waukesha Monday with a string of horses for Thursday's races. One of his horses worked out in 2:18 1/2 this morning.

Jack and Will McVicar went to Brookfield this morning where they have a force at work doing the plumbing in three new houses being built there.

MEAT IS STILL VERY HIGH

DESPITE PRICES, AS MUCH IS CONSUMED AS EVER.

CATTLE NOT BEST QUALITY

Butchers Say the High Cost Shows That the Times Are Prosperous.

That prosperity is deluging the country is evident from the inflated prices which prevail at present. Prosperity may not be the cause of these prices, but that there is prosperity may be clearly seen from the sale which certain of these commodities enjoy. The meat market just now is one evidence of the truth of this statement.

Meat is High.
Meat is now higher than it has been for some time. Stock quotations lower, but according to one of the dealers in this city, the good meat is really higher than it has been before this year. It is easy to get grass fattened cattle at very low rates, but the dressed animal does not show up as well as the same animal did in the stock yards.

Cattle Thin.
While good cattle have been dressing about fifty-five percent after being in the barn all winter, the animals that are now being brought to the local dealers from the pastures do not dress higher than forty-five percent. Better dressing animals can be secured but the quotations for such stock are much higher.

Everybody Wants Meat.
And yet it makes no difference in the trade how high prices are. "Everybody is prosperous," so said one of the local butchers, "if you were in the meat business you would see it quick enough. It is not so much prices as meat. We can sell nearly two or three times as much of the better cuts of meat as we formerly did. And it is that way with everything that we handle. People are eating meat nowadays because they want it and can afford to pay for it. They do not care as much as they once did what it costs."

His memory will linger as a pleasant reminder of a man who faithfully fulfilled his mission, living for a purpose, and working out a destiny inspired by hope and courage, in spite of physical infirmity. Such a life is a benediction to any community, and its loss is occasion for sincere regret.
